Dear Ms. Henney:

We are writing to express our concern about the proliferation of genetically engineered foods. We know that you are familiar with the public health arguments against GE foods and hope that you would agree that a moratorium and further testing is warranted to guarantee that these products will not cause harm to humans or the environment. In addition we want to stress that all food products, whether sold domestically or internationally, should be appropriately labeled to give us consumers the information we need to make well-informed purchases. This is the most basic of consumer rights. We urge you to do all that you can to support the Citizen Petition (Docket # 00P-1211/CP1) related to the moratorium, testing and labeling of GE foods.

Thank you for your attention. Sincerely,

Angelo Capozzi
